

March 16 2021 Re-Opening Roundtable – Meeting Saved Chat

13:19:29 De Chris Sprague à Tout le monde : In BC a film shoot is considered a workplace so exempt from public gathering rules

13:22:57 De Adair Redish à Tout le monde : 1mtr SD with a mask is great.

13:24:06 De Tammy Faulkner (she/her) à Tout le monde : Yes we're very fortunate overall! 1m has been working well in Yellow

13:31:26 De Julian Sleath à Tout le monde : Is there any training for potential Covid coordinators ?

13:31:42 De Ryan Brink à Tout le monde : I have another meeting, but great to finally hear some optimism across the country. I would recommend checking out "The Daily" Podcast from Mar. 15 about life after vaccinations in Israel.

13:33:48 De John Rowe à Tout le monde : ActSafe BC is working on a training program.

13:37:18 De Chris Sprague à Tout le monde : Covid plans should be an extension of your current health and safety plan. If a group comes in without one they need to follow under the house rules

13:38:34 De Janelle Rainville (she/her) à Tout le monde : The problem is that the compliance officer is paid for by the company. as the contracted person do you really have the power and not potentially lose your contract if leadership does not agree?

13:47:58 De Don Parman à Tout le monde : Or your technical Director, Production Manager....

13:50:36 De Jurjen Barel à Tout le monde : It should be a relationship built on confidence - in both directions.

The COVID officer needs to have the employer behind him/her if the production gets shut down.

If the employer uses the officer just to "check the box" on a piece of paper, do you really want to work there as a COVID officer? This should be clear at the initial conversation before signing that contract.

13:51:38 De Chris Sprague à Tout le monde : in motion picture they are calling their COVID people health and safety managers. this is initially to deal with COVID but it has been a wakeup that every production needs to take health and safety more seriously

13:51:43 De Sean McIlveen à Tout le monde : At what point though will a production actually shut down for more than a correction of behaviour? How likely is it? So much of this should be dealt with in advance

13:52:11 De Sean McIlveen à Tout le monde : Set the expectation, and then enforce

13:53:02 De Sean McIlveen à Tout le monde : How many swiss-cheese layers have to fail for it to actually get to that point, really

13:53:34 De Matt Frankish à Tout le monde : Lots, but even unlikely things happen from time to time.

13:53:43 De Jurjen Barel à Tout le monde : It's like any Health & Safety issue: there needs to be a point where warnings have been given enough and there needs to be a hard stop.

13:56:46 De Don Parman à Tout le monde : Weather, temperature, wind....

13:58:13 De Bonni Baynton à Tout le monde : Like the time we had to cancel a show due to wind and snow....in AUGUST...

13:58:21 De Paul (he/him) Fujimoto-Pihl à Tout le monde : ouch

13:58:37 De Don Parman à Tout le monde : Lol.... july... Frost in Atlin BC

13:58:55 De Julian Sleath à Tout le monde : Great to see everyone across the country - take care & stay safe. Alas I have to go to the next online meeting. - J

13:59:23 De Sean McIlveen à Tout le monde : When?

14:00:47 De Don Parman à Tout le monde : Thanks for hosting! Great conversation.
